

Construction Update - September 11, 2024

STAGE 1 ALMOST COMPLETE!

The contractor has made great progress on Stage 1 of the Arlington Heights Road Reconstruction Project! Thank you for your patience as these critical improvements are completed.

Over the last couple of weeks, the contractor continued storm sewer installation, working on the centerline of Arlington Heights Road. The storm sewer improvements will add capacity to the system to help reduce the risk of flooding, storm sewer installation this week included:

- Lake Cook Road: The outfall manhole is installed, ready for Stage 2.
- Buffalo Creek south: Centerline storm sewer and laterals to Stage 1 limits are complete, ready for Stage 2.
- Buffalo Creek north: Centerline storm sewer and laterals to Stage 1 limits are complete, ready for Stage 2.
- Brittany Lane south: Centerline storm sewer and laterals to Stage 1 limits are 99% complete.
- Carlton Place north: Centerline storm sewer and laterals in progress.
- Alden Lane north: Outfall manhole was installed and centerline storm sewer is in progress.

This week, storm sewer installation will continue on the centerline, northbound and utility relocation work is in progress at Bernay Lane and Checker Road.

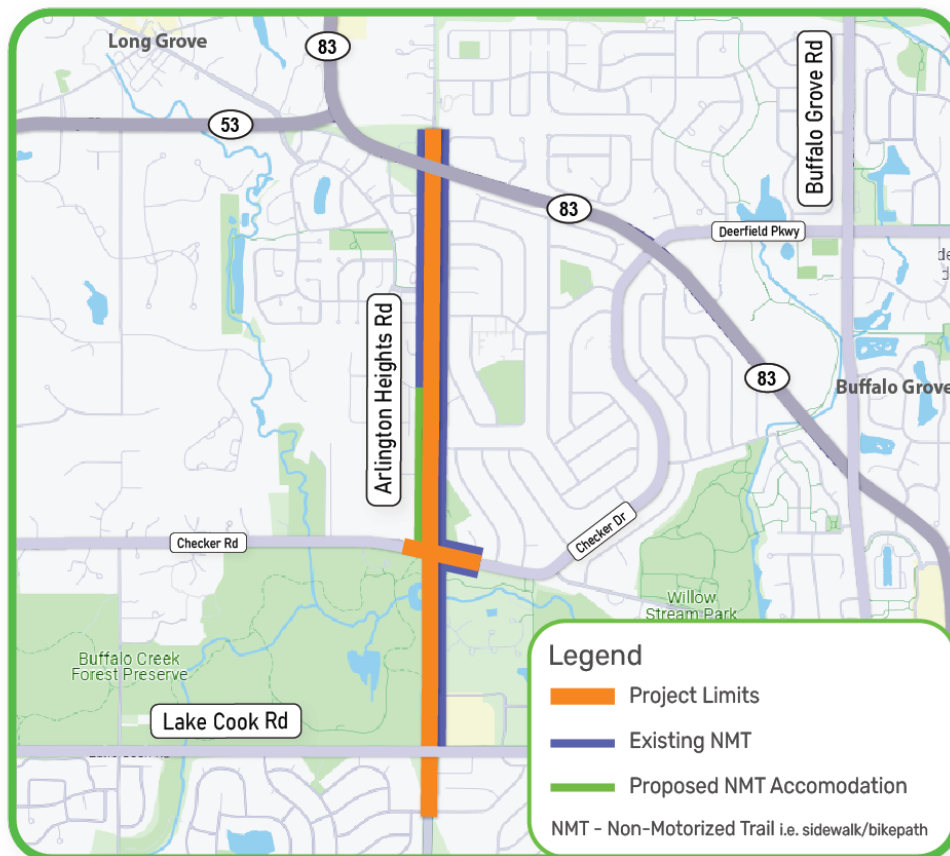

Traffic remains in the two outside lanes with daily shifts as needed for the sewer work or utility relocation. Motorists should expect occasional stoppages of traffic flow when trucks are dumping materials or equipment is moving.

Please use caution when traveling through the area to support a safe work environment.
